“May 2019 was the busiest May on-record for the Myrtle Beach International Airport” said Scott Van Moppes, director of airports. “During the month, our airline partners reported a record breaking 153,000 passengers arriving into our Airport, exceeding last year’s record by almost 16-percent, with each of the nine airlines reporting increased counts. When comparing May 2019 to May 2012, the number of passengers arriving into the MYR has more than doubled. The incredible growth and utilization of the Airport is due to the strength of the entire Grand Strand.”
