

Memo

To: Ambassadors of the Myrtle Beach International Airport

From: Kirk Lovell

Date: September 9, 2018

Subject: Florence

This week's weather conditions will impact flights operations at Myrtle Beach International Airport (MYR). As passengers begin to inquire about airport/airline operations:

- The airport typically remains open during adverse weather; however, airlines may or may not be operating
- Direct passengers to their respective airlines website. On websites, under the section titled "Travel Advisory" (or something similar), air carriers will provide details about flight disruptions.

Allegiant Air www.allegiantair.com

American Airlines www.aa.com

Elite Airways www.eliteairways.net

Frontier Airlines www.flyfrontier.com

Spirit www.spirit.com

United www.united.com

WestJet www.westjet.com

- The Airport is in Zone "B"
- The Airport is NOT an evacuation shelter
- Information about Florence can be found on Horry County's website at <http://www.horrycounty.org/Departments/EmergencyManagement/Hurricanes> . This link contains information on how to prepare for an emergency, evacuation routes and maps, re-entry information, shelters, etc.